

Crisis Communication: Guidelines for Action

List of Handouts

(Page 1 of 2)

Copyright © 2004 by Peter M. Sandman and Jody Lanard. All Rights Reserved.

Crisis Communication: Guidelines for Action – List of Handouts	I
Crisis Communication: Guidelines for Action – Course Outline	III
Crisis Communication I: How Bad Is It? How Sure Are You?	1
Crisis Communication II: Coping with the Emotional Side of the Crisis	3
Crisis Communication III: Involving the Public	5
Crisis Communication IV: Errors, Misimpressions, and Half-Truths	6
Introduction
Four Kinds of Risk Communication	8
Six Focus Areas for Crisis Communication	11
Crisis Communication I: How Bad Is It? How Sure Are You?
The Seesaw of Risk Communication	12
How To Reassure Without Over-Reassuring	13
Talking about Worst Case Scenarios: Eight Principal Strategies	15
Avoiding Overconfidence in Uncertain Situations	16
Dealing with Uncertainty	18
Dilemma Sharing – When Should You Do It?	19
The Risk-versus-Cost Dilemma	20
How to Let Opinion Diversity Show	22
Guidelines for Responsible Speculation	23
Crisis Communication II: Coping with the Emotional Side of the Crisis
“Panic Panic” and Fear of Fear	24
Levels of Fear – Which Is the Goal?	26
Beyond Panic Prevention: Addressing Emotion in Emergency Communication	28
Adjustment Reactions	29
How to Establish Your Own Humanity in a Crisis	32
Crisis Communication III: Involving the Public
Giving People Anticipatory Guidance	33
Encouraging an Active Rather than Passive Public	34

Handout from: Crisis Communication: Guidelines for Action
 DVD produced by the American Industrial Hygiene Association (May 2004)

Crisis Communication: Guidelines for Action

List of Handouts

(Page 2 of 2)

Copyright © 2004 by Peter M. Sandman and Jody Lanard. All Rights Reserved.

Crisis Communication IV: Errors, Misimpressions, and Half-Truths

Acknowledgment, Blame, and Forgiveness	38
Anchoring Frame Fundamentals	41
Some Important Anchoring Frames in Crisis Situations	42
Candor about Candor	43
How to Do Risk Comparisons	44
Is This a Good Risk Comparison?	45

Exercises

Avian Flu Exercise: What Are They Doing?	46
SARS Exercise: What Are They Doing?	51
“Plus Ça Change” Exercise: What Were They Doing?	58
About the Speakers	66

Handout from: Crisis Communication: Guidelines for Action

DVD produced by the American Industrial Hygiene Association (May 2004)